Park, playgrounds in need of refurbishing

Markstad Park gets a trim

Town of Elk Point public works employees made fast work of pruning the stately spruce trees in Markstad Park to make the park and anyone in it visible from 52 Avenue, after town council was made aware that there was an issue with loitering, littering and vandalism in the area. The park is named after pioneer businessman C. J. Markstad, whose widow donated the land in his memory. A cairn in the park was dedicated in 1973.

Summer is when local playgrounds get the most use, and a complaint relayed to Elk Point town council by Coun. Debra McQuinn at the July 28 meeting regarding one of those sites got almost instant action.

Coun. McQuinn also offered first-hand information regarding the condition of Markstad Park, noting that the playground equipment is badly in need of repair and the whole park needed better upkeep. The grass had been mowed, but edges and around the playground equipment needed weed-whacking, she said, adding that she had seen discarded bottles and other trash in the long grass, possibly because "the garbage is overflowing, and that's not acceptable."

The park was no longer family-friendly, the councillor said, and she no longer felt comfortable either sending her children there to play or even walking through the park with them.

Problems with individuals loitering in the park have also been noted, and Mayor Tung feels that adding lighting and trimming overgrown trees so it is easy to see into the park would help to discourage this.

Town workers were quick to take steps to remedy the situation. By Wednesday afternoon, passers-by had a clear view of a much tidier park between the trunks of newly pruned spruce trees. Playground equipment repairs are on the to-do list. (Continued on Page 2)

Horticulture and Craft Show goes this weekend

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point and District Agricultural Society's annual Horticulture and Craft Show goes this weekend, with prize ribbons and cash awards offered in a total of 540 categories in 16 sections. Everything from asters and acrylic paintings to woven rugs and best-dressed zucchini will go before the judges on Saturday afternoon, and will be displayed for public viewing from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 10 at the A. G. Ross Arena.

This year's show also includes a quilt display, an art show and sale, a home based mini trade show and an intriguing new endeavor entitled 'A Taste of Crock Pots,' as well as a fundraising draw of donated items to support the Wild Pink Yonder Trail Ride for Breast Cancer.

Quilts are needed for the display, and show organizer Donna Bassett will be at the arena on Thursday evening to accept them. They can also be dropped off at her home, and those interested in having their quilt added to the display may call her at 724-4375 for more information.

The art show and sale features a wonderful selection of the work of local artists Shirley Kinneberg, Kathy Gusnowski, Donna Chamberland and Linda Hymanyk. Kinneberg, who is organizing the show, is also currently presenting a solo show entitled 'Across This Prairie Mile' at the Muttart Conservatory in Edmonton, through to Aug. 20.

Back door, please

Those bringing in entries on Saturday are reminded that there is a big change this year: please bring your entries to the back (west) door of the arena. This change has been made to make it easier for both entrants, who will be able to pull up near the door to unload their entries, and for the committee, who will not have to maneuver wheeled carts of entries through the narrow doorway onto the arena floor.

Entries will be accepted only between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, and the $5 exhibitor's fee will cover as many entries as that person wishes to submit. Entry forms, category lists and entry tags are available at the Elk Point Review from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

The bench show will be located at the west end of the arena this year, with the trade and art shows in the middle and the quilt show in its traditional site at the east end. The Wild Pink Yonder draw will be located adjacent to the quilt show.

Riders welcome on Wild Pink Yonder

STAFF WRITERS

Breast cancer survivor Jane Hurl is getting ready to hit the trail – the Iron Horse Trail, that is.

Hurl is the trail boss and organizer for Wild Pink Yonder, a horse-powered ride that will make its way through 23 area communities, with a stop in Elk Point on Aug. 15. Each community will vie for bragging rights as Pinkest Little Town in the West by raising the most money per capita for breast cancer research, treatment and education.

In the past five years, riders blazed trails from Cypress Hills, Grande Prairie to Waterton, raising $633,000 along the way.

Riders will follow the entire trail, starting in Heinsburg and visiting Elk Point, St. Paul, Bonnyville, Glendon, Ashmont and Mallaig, among others.

Hurl is asking riders from those communities to take part in some or all of the event, with meals included for the humans, and feed supplied for the animals. Riders will enjoy entertainment and a safe place to camp following each day's ride.

Typically, she asks riders to donate $100 per day for taking part, but she is relaxing that request this year. "Our ridership is down, so we're asking people to bring what you can, remembering this is a breast cancer fundraiser."

Interested in joining the ride? Call Hurl at 780-975-4429, or email her at jane@wildpinkyonder.com

TOWN OF ELK POINT NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING Bylaw No. 728/14

TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to the Municipal Government Act, R.S.A. 2000, as amended, the Council of the Town of Elk Point proposes to adopt Bylaw No. 728/14 for the Town to enact:

- The Land Use Bylaw 717/13 for the Town of Elk Point is hereby amended by changing the designation of Lot A, Plan 1913E0 as indicated on Schedule "A" attached hereto, from (R2) Residential to High Density Residential (R3).

A copy of the proposed bylaw may be reviewed and inspected by the public at the Town of Elk Point Office during the hours of 8:30 AM to 4:30 PM, Monday through Friday.

At 7:00 PM on August 11, 2014, the Council of the Town of Elk Point will cause a Public Hearing to be held in the Town Council Chambers at the Town of Elk Point Office, at which time objections or comments regarding the proposed bylaw may be given and received.

Myron Goyan, Manager
Town of Elk Point
Box 448, Elk Point, AB.
TOA 1A0

Dated at Elk Point, AB this 14th day of July, 2014.

The Markstad Park playground was built by Mayor Tung, town manager Myron Goyan, former town councillor Ron Fraess and a few community volunteers.

Another park is also scheduled for an upgrade. The town's recreation committee is planning a meeting with the family wishing to contribute toward refurbishing the playground on the corner of Centennial Drive and the playground equipment suppliers, and will ask if the Elk Point Lions Club would like to sit in on the meeting, as they are making tentative plans to upgrade the playground at the Elk Point Recreation Park.

Project update

Council received updates on this summer's projects at their July 28 meeting.

Goyan told council that the treated water storage reservoir will be done in two stages. The storage unit will be completed first, with the electronic valve connecting the unit to the regional water line then attached. The town only pays for water that goes into the reservoir, he noted.

Also regarding water, Coun. McQuinn told council she had been informed that there are issues with water pressure in the north end of town. Mayor Parrish Tung wondered if there might be something restricting the flow, while Goyan said that water pressure at his home varies considerably, but he feels this will be rectified when new pumps are installed. Goyan was asked to put the water pressure issues on the Public Works Committee's meeting agenda.

Goyan also reported on the industrial park construction. The road grade should be completed within a week or 10 days, and while "overhead power lines are in, street lights aren't. It's going well." The sale of a lot in the area under development means the road going east must be opened when the contractor returns.

Bylaws

A bylaw allowing the town to sign a loan guarantee document for the Allied Arts Society was given all three readings.

First reading was also given to a bylaw allowing closure of a lane east of the eight-plex. The lane parallels a utility corridor that will no longer be needed when the new water storage reservoir is completed, with that corridor then becoming available for use as a lane, while the lane being closed will be consolidated with the large lot east of the eight-unit structure.

Industrial lots

Lots in the new industrial park have been sold on the agreement that construction on those lots must commence within one year. That year is up for one of the companies, and council agreed to advise them that if no action is taken by the Aug. 11 council meeting, a motion will be made to refund the purchase price of the lot and put it back on the market. Two other companies have an Aug. 15 deadline to complete the purchase of the lots on which they have put a deposit.

Garage growing

Council was surprised and more than somewhat perturbed to learn that the planned 20 x 24-foot garage for the town- and county-owned handi-van has grown to 24 x 24 feet, and could be bigger yet, if more length is required for the van. The mayor said he had spoken with County Coun. Dwight Dach, who suggested that increase in size, and he concurred, noting that it might also be large enough then to house the Elks van, which is also used for community transportation. There is an additional cost involved, and councilors agreed that it will be necessary to get the county's approval, as the cost of the project is being shared between the town and county. Council approved a motion to ask the county for their approval of the expansion of the project, and agreed that if the approval is not forthcoming, the matter will come back to the next council meeting.

Mosquitoes wrap up season

TYLER WARAWA
Review Contributor

Well, the season has come to an end. The Mosquito boys were in the Tier 3 provincial championship tournament in High Prairie last weekend.

The boys played defense pretty well and the pitching was great, but the bats weren't going and if you don't have all three, it makes it tough. They played three games against High Prairie, Red Deer and Jasper. They lost all three games, but everybody was still smiling at the end.

The three MVPs for the tournament were Evan Ockerman Cole Bendixen and Jace Stafford. Evan played most of the weekend at first base and made a lot of outs for us with very few balls getting by him. Cole pitched and struck out his fair share of batters with his hard throwing heaters. Jace pitched for his first time this year and every game he went out there and improved, becoming one of our main pitchers by the end of the year.

Danny Cardinal had another good weekend playing really well defensively and also hitting a big double. Tulsen Wells turned the corner with his hitting and started to get some key hits. Mathew Quinney had another good weekend playing at short stop making some fine plays. Ethan Warawa got into two games pitching and did a real good job holding down the other team's batters. Brandon Goertzen also did some pitching and made a really nice play while pitching, helping turn a double play. Kobe Warawa made a really nice running catch in the outfield and also blocked a lot of balls while back catching. The other main catcher, Andon Ballas, had a good weekend at the plate, cracking a few doubles.

After a long summer of ball it will be nice to have a break, a big thanks goes out to all the parents for their help and all the miles they put on to get us around the province this year. See you next year!!

Capsule Comments

by Your Natural Choice Apple Drugs pharmacist, Seyi Oyebo

- During allergy season, it's good to remember that pollen is very sticky. It adheres to eyelashes and hair on our bodies. Taking a shower at night is a good way to wash away the pollen. The hairs in our noses also have pollen stuck to them so rinsing your nasal passages is also a good idea.
- Keeping a close watch on your sodium intake? Anything that fizzes can have high sodium levels. If you want to be sure, read the nutritional labels.
- The pure liquid nicotine in e-cigarettes is a hazard to children. Since e-cigarettes began being marketed in the U.S. a couple of years ago, poison control centres have seen more poisonings of young children who have ingested the contents of e-cigarettes. Health Canada hasn't legalized this product in Canada and its slowness to make a decision is well-founded and needs more assurance of safety.
- Pharmacists and doctors are aware that many people don't take their prescribed medication as ordered. This can be detrimental to people's health. A study done in England recently looked at people taking blood pressure (BP) medication found that 25% were not taking their blood pressure meds as prescribed. Since we usually can't "feel" high blood pressure, damage is being done when meds are missed. Take your medications as your doctor orders...especially BP medications.
- Helping you understand how to help you get the most out of your medications is the primary job of our pharmacists. It's important to us.

EDITORIAL

Show it off!

Elk Point and district residents have been displaying the fruits of their labours and talents for more than a century, with the first Elk Point Fair taking place in 1912.

Through the years, generations of gardeners, grain growers and house plant coddlers have brought their finest to the fair, along with those talented at baking, canning, sewing, knitting, crochet and quilting, painting, creative writing, photography and crafting of all kinds. It is amazing to see the wide variety of skills our area residents exhibit each year.

As proud sponsors of the Creative Writing section, the Elk Point Review is happy to be part of it all.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Heritage, hot weather and historic resources

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF AUG. 5 IN...

1984

Over 100 area residents, many of them in costumes reflecting their heritage, gathered at the Elks Hall to pay homage to a wide variety of ethnic backgrounds and to our district's pioneer days. Over 200 members of the Zarowny family came from as far away as New York, Las Vegas, Ontario and Vancouver for an enormous family reunion at King George Hall, next door to Casper Zarowny's pioneer homestead.

1989

Town council coped with the hot, dry weather with a discussion of Elk Point's water supply, in particular, problems with the water treatment process that caused color to appear in tap water, and the lining in the clear well and pump parts to deteriorate.

1994

The skirl of the bagpipes, the lilt of a Métis fiddle and the rhythmic tapping of French Canadian spoons played accompaniment to the Clan Days Celebration at Fort George and Buckingham House, with performers including Highland dancers, the Riel Reelers and a fur trade skit featuring a guest entertainer from Rocky Mountain House National Historic Site.

1999

Elk Point laid a solid foundation for a new look on its main streets, disrupting both vehicle and pedestrian traffic as crews broke up and hauled away time-battered sidewalks along 50 Ave and 50 St., in preparation for the installation of new curb, gutter and sidewalks. Heinsburg's CNR station and railway water tower were officially designated as provincial historic resources, with the water tower being only one of three in the province that remains on its original site.

2004

County of St. Paul Reeve Robert Bouchard told his council that local agricultural producers weren't alone in their struggles, after he attended the provincial drought committee meeting. Travis Lindquist won gold in 17-and-under triple jump, Sabrina Stewart silver in 15-and-under high jump and Amy Millar a bronze in the 17-and-under triple jump at the Alberta Summer Games in Okotoks.

2009

Roof sections, built at ground level, were lifted by crane and placed atop the under-construction Eco Centre. Town Council met Elk Point RCMP's new Detachment Commander, Sgt. Brad Lazicki, who was born and raised in Elk Point and had been with the RCMP for 12 years, serving in Vernon, Lumby, Chilliwack and Vancouver before coming to Elk Point.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Remembering a native son

ELK POINT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Review Contributors

A son of area pioneers and a lifelong resident of the Spring Park, Elk Point, Lindbergh and Heinsburg areas was laid to rest last week. Roy T. Scott was 88.

Roy's parents, Ada and Edmond Scott, came to Mooswa, which is now known as Lindbergh, from Gleichen, Alberta in November of 1925. The day after Christmas, they went back to southern Alberta with Ed's brother Vic and his wife, Etta, and, according to Ada's story in Elk Point Reflections, "came back by sleigh, with a grain wagon box covered with canvas and drove six head of horses, seven in all, as one traveled behind. We had a stove and beds and food. We bought feed for horses along the way. It took us fifteen days to make the trip."

The Scotts settled in the Spring Park area and welcomed the birth of three children, Roy, Helen and Irvin, all of whom attended Spring Park School. Ed and Vic bought a large steam engine and a sawmill and cut wood and broke sod for people around the area. Ed later started a blacksmith shop in Lindbergh, and also worked on the railroad, before spending four years at the St. Paul Foundry. The family then moved back to Elk Point, where Ed and Roy established the E and R Sheet Metal Shop and also installed furnaces and did plumbing.

One of Roy's pastimes in those days was the rodeo. Elk Point historian Steve Andrishak tells us in Reflections, "Other stampedes near Elk Point were held on the sand plains (about 11 km. east of Elk Point on Hwy. 646). They seemed to attract large crowds and they provided their share of action. I remember Roy Scott competing at one of these stampedes. He was riding a saddle bronc and was doing quite well until his horse stumbled and fell. There was a big cloud of dust and for a minute you couldn't see man or horse. A lot of us thought it was the end of Roy. However, when the dust cleared, man and horse both got to their feet with no visible harm done to either of them." Roy later took up a less dangerous part of rodeo, as a team roper, and competed for many years.

Roy's love for horses also was evident in another favourite pastime: driving wagons. His big covered wagon was a familiar sight in trail rides of all kinds, whether winding through the local hills he knew and loved on the Happy Trails Wagon Train treks, making his way along the North Saskatchewan River from Fort Victoria with a bag of commemorative mail on the Fort George and Buckingham House Bicentennial wagon train, or plodding through rainstorm after rainstorm during the re-enactment of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police March West. One of the founders of the Iron Horse Trail, he lobbied long and hard for its establishment as a multipurpose recreational trail.

His wagon and his handcrafted Red River carts were familiar sights in parades and events from Back to Batoche to Potta Trail Days to Haying in the 30s to Edmonton Klondike Days. One of the shortest wagon treks, and one of the most memorable, was when Roy and his new bride, Marjorie, who he met on a wagon train, traveled the few blocks from their outdoor wedding to their home, with well wishers following along.

Roy not only drove wagons and carts, he built them in his 4S Wheelwright Shop, and loved the challenge of restoring some battered horse-drawn vehicle rescued from a fence line or back 40. His Red River carts, built with careful attention to their long-ago predecessors, were in high demand, and traveled far afield to become part of displays and historical events.

Roy also loved music and entertaining, and there has seldom been a jamboree or other celebration at Heinsburg or Fort George and Buckingham House historic site, that was not treated to the rhythmic clicking of his famous mule bones or his wooden spoons as he kept time to a lively fiddle tune. Roy's talent with the spoons was well known from the days when Spring Park Hall was famous for its chicken suppers, when he would be part of the entertainment. In more recent years, Roy would also bring along his little 'dancing doll,' in fringed Native costume, and set her feet to dancing on a miniature dance floor as the musicians played on.

His knowledge of local history and his willingness to volunteer his time and skills made Roy a valuable part of numerous local and area organizations, from the Elk Point Historical Society and the Friends of Fort George and Buckingham House to the Iron Horse Trail, Riverland Recreational Trail Society, Alberta's Lakeland DMO and Heinsburg Community Club. He will be sorely missed by them all.

ELK POINT 4-H BEEF CLUB

Review Contributors

The 38th Annual Provincial 4-H Beef Heifer Show and Fourth Annual Summer Synergy Show were held in Olds from July 7 to 12, 2014.

Heidi Tymko had a great week at Summer Synergy. She made it to the final rounds in showmanship and team grooming, placed second in Show Team judging, won first in Equine judging and received the $750 Intermediate RBC scholarship. After placing among the top in the intermediate aggregate category, Heidi went to the Calgary Stampede and received the $1,000 intermediate scholarship. As a scholarship winner, she won a limited edition Calgary Stampede buckle and the privilege to walk across the stage during the Calgary Stampede show-down Sunday...along with the $100,000 winners!

Kailey Wirsta (also had a great week in the junior category, winning the Reserve Champion Junior Judge Buckle and the Junior Photography Contest. She received a framed print of her photo, then an additional larger framed print was auctioned off as a fundraiser.

er for the event with all proceeds going back to scholarships and trips for the juniors attending the show. Her print sold for $400 to Wayne & Anne Burgess of Olds. It will be displayed at the Olds Ford Dealership for everyone to see.

Lexi Wirsta was also in attendance as a first year junior member. In the Provincial 4-H Beef

Heifer Show, she won third place in the bred heifer class and third place in the cow calf class in junior judging and a second place in team marketing.

Macey Ann Marcoux is another Elk Point member who attended without her heifer to see what the event was like and help out the other members. She is planning on attending next year!

Throughout the competitions, the members also had opportunities to attend clipping and fitting demonstrations and judging clinics, and participated in large group fun activities including the "Great Griller" barbequing competition and the "Amazing Race". Everyone had a terrific week!

Registration Information

All parents who have not pre-registered and paid for fees in June are encouraged to register their child(ren) on registration days so that the first day of school is a full and productive day for students.

! Please note – Required at the time of registration: legal land description for all rural residents and street addresses for students living in towns or villages. For first time registrants previous year's school documentation, AB Health Care Card, and student identification such as birth certificate and/or treaty card are also required.

Due to limited space in certain schools, consideration will be given to students who are currently registered in these schools.
